

FUNDRAISING IN CHURCH

Action for Children has strong links with the church, having been founded by Methodist minister Thomas Bowman Stephenson – and what better place to hold fundraising events than in, or around, the very hub of the community?

We're always happy to hear from, and support, our Methodist fundraisers. If you're looking to do some fundraising we've got some great ideas for you!

Top tip

Why not get your younger members involved?

Kids have so much energy, so why not think of a few ways they can raise funds, like a sponsored walk, face-painting, or an arts and crafts afternoon?

HOW

ACTION FOR CHILDREN

WORKS

Here's a few ideas to get your fundraising underway...

Tea for two?

Everyone loves a steaming cuppa, a biscuit, and a catch-up, so why not hold a community bake-off and coffee morning? The bake-off winner is the person whose cake disappears the fastest!

Bric-a-brac brilliance

Bric-a-brac sales are always great for fundraising. Our My Swap'n'Shop pack – actionforchildren.org.uk/myswapnshop – gives you all the info you need to get started.

Why not turn the event into a fete, in the church grounds, and have activities like face-painting, apple bobbing, and cake sales, to bring in those extra £££'s?

These boots are made for walking

How about a sponsored walk one Sunday, after church? Or, if you'd like to join an organised event, check our Step Out for Children walk series – actionforchildren.org.uk/step-out – and find a walk near you.

One more song!

Feel like tinkling those organ ivories? Pick out some of your favourite hymns and get the congregation together for a good old sing-song – or why not organise a choir concert for your local community, and charge for entry and refreshments?
